

So we do not lose heart. Though our outer self is wasting away, our inner self is being renewed day by day. For this light momentary affliction is preparing for us an eternal weight of glory beyond all comparison, as we look not to the things that are seen but to the things that are unseen. For the things that are seen are transient, but the things that are unseen are eternal.

2 Corinthians 4:16-18

Prompts to begin thinking through how to create a legacy that you'd be proud of:

- What do I hope my loved ones know about me? Do they know how much I love them?
- Who has left an impact in my life? What would be meaningful to communicate to them?
- Do I want my kids or grandkids to turn out like me?
- How do I wish to be remembered?
- What have I left unsaid?
- What stories do I want to pass on to the next generation?
- Have I been bold in sharing my faith with others and living in a way that honors God?
- What hard conversations have I been avoiding that need to happen?
- Do my family and friends know my testimony?
- And a really difficult question to answer honestly: Am I currently living in a way that is in alignment with what I want my legacy to be?
